TIPS FOR JOBSEEKERS

- Bring resumes and dress professionally.
- Greet the recruiter with a firm handshake and offer your resume. Introduce yourself in 30 seconds or less.
 - (Example: "Hi, my name is [insert name] and I'm interested in your company because [insert why]. What kind of opportunities might exist for someone like me?")
- Ask for a business card from the companies that interest you. If they don't have one, write their contact information on a note pad.
- Take notes after your conversations with the recruiters. It will make your follow-up with them much easier if you can remember important points of your conversation.
- After meeting with the recruiters, thank them for taking the time to speak with you.
- Using the business cards you collected, follow up with the companies in two weeks to indicate your interest. Those who follow up get jobs!
